

Lisbon, 16th October 2017

To Whom It May Concern,

we are a group of 30 young people who have created a workshop concerning the post-truth era and critical thinking. The workshop was created as part of a 7-day Erasmus+ youth exchange in Lisbon, in which we all participated. In the group there were many different nationalities: 5 people from Macedonia, Scotland, Estonia, Italy, Poland and Portugal. The aim of the exchange was to discuss current affairs (media and politics), critical thinking and youth participation. The group believes that the only way to combat the post-truth political era is to work on developing the critical and analytical thinking skills within society and by promoting freedom of press.

During our time in Lisbon, we gained a lot of knowledge that now we would like to share with your youth. We found out that the learning process is all about discussion, brainstorming and sharing our experiences on the given topic.

Should you be interested in helping us spread the word, we have created a brochure with the exact instructions on how you could implement this workshop in your school/organization. Of course we are happy to answer any questions and give you further information.

Thank you very much for your time and interest!

Kind regards,
Team TH!NK

